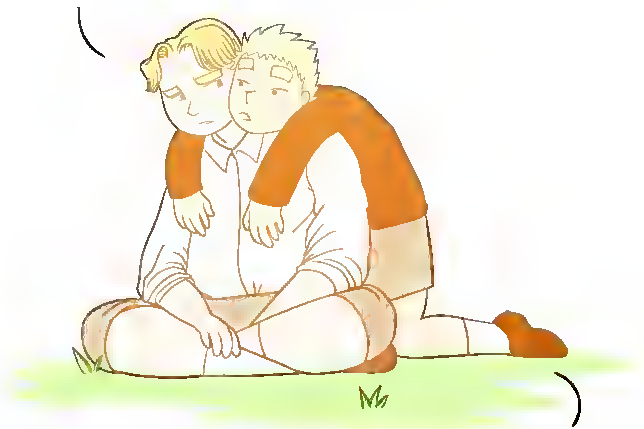
"My mum told me this so don't go spreading it around Apparently Kacey's mum's been in hospital a lot recently with a cancer or something and their bakery's been closed a lot. Their whole family's probably a bit stressed out."

"Just give Kacey a break, he'll probably talk about it when he's ready"

Caaaaake, what's up with you lately?

Other's problems puts your problems into perspective.

Hm... What do you mean?

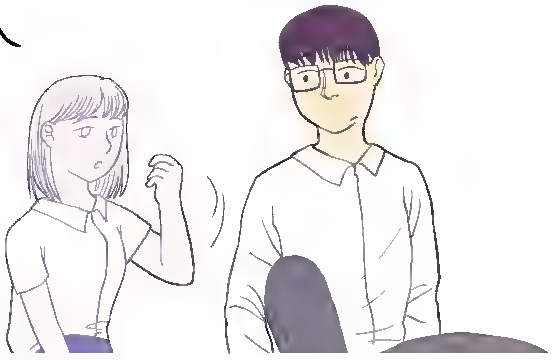


You're no fun recently, so un-cake-like. What's the matter?

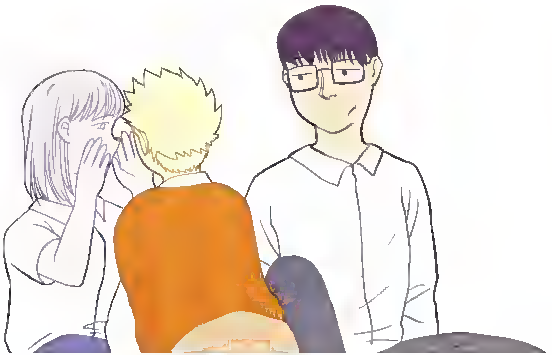
Hey it's not my fault alright?

I was just trying to cheer him up.
He didn't have to leave.

Ah I can't stand it anymore.



Just come over here, I've got something to tell you.



Well... I know you have good intentions D, you just don't realise the message you're giving to people.

More like, "You're looking depressing, and it's making me uncomfortable, why don't you go back to normal so we can all feel better."

WHAAT?
That's not what I'm saying.

Just let it all out!
You can't possibly have more on your mind than I do... trust me.

WHAA
Take this, tickle attack!

Yeah, but It's what it sort of sounds like.
How would I know that???

What? "I want you to feel better?"

What are you thinking about so intently?

Just Ask Yuli
